6. If you use your Bonfire Card for foreign currency transactions, the purchase amount will be converted into New Zealand dollars at the exchange rate determined by Mastercard on the date the transaction details are made available to NZACU, and that amount will be deducted from the available value on the card.

7. You cannot authorise or allow any transaction where you know, or have reasonable grounds to expect, that the transaction will exceed the available value on your Bonfire Card. Please check your remaining card balance on our Website regularly and be aware of merchants that may charge or process payments in this way, such as car rental businesses, hotels and motels.

If you don't report the transaction within this timeframe we cannot reverse it, even if it turns out to have been unauthorised. You cannot dispute a transaction if you change your mind or make a mistake about a purchase or if the purchase was made with the card by you or with your permission. Instructions for disputing a purchase are set out on our Website.
11. We may record phone conversations or correspondence you have had with us on any matter as well as your use of our Website for security, training, and evidentiary purposes.

GENERAL TERMS

1. The Bonfire Card remains property of Card Works Limited. You can use the card in accordance with these terms and conditions, or give your card to another person to use in accordance with these terms and conditions.
2. You must not give out your Bonfire Card or card details (with the exception of the customer number printed on the back of the card) to anyone, unless your intention is that they become the rightful holder of the card. You are responsible for the use and safety of your Bonfire Card.

3. If we believe that the card has been stolen or compromised, or is being used fraudulently or for criminal activity, or in breach of these terms and conditions, we have the right to block your card without notice. We will reverse the block promptly once the matter has been resolved to our reasonable satisfaction. If the matter is not resolved within 30 days, or if required to comply with a court order, we may permanently cancel your card without notice.
4. We may permanently cancel your card as part of a general withdrawal of the Bonfire Card from the market, a withdrawal of the sub-product or category your Bonfire Card belongs to, or as part of a general upgrade of our infrastructure that supports the use of the Bonfire Card. If we do this, we will first post a notice on our Website and in a national newspaper at least 180 days in advance.
5. Our liability to you under or in connection with your Bonfire Card will be limited to the available value on your card. We will not be liable to you under or in connection with your Bonfire Card for any indirect or consequential loss, or any loss of profits, cost savings, opportunity, or reputation, regardless of the cause. These limitations and exclusions apply to all forms of liability (whether in contract, equity, negligence, or otherwise), except to the extent that we cannot lawfully exclude or limit that liability by contract.
6. We may assign any of our rights and obligations under these terms and conditions to any other person or business, subject to that person or business assuming our obligations under these terms and conditions. We can perfect the assignment by posting a notice to our Website.
7. If any part of these terms and conditions is found to be illegal, invalid, or otherwise unenforceable, then this will not affect the legality, validity, or enforceability of the rest of these terms and conditions. We can also change these terms and conditions to fix the problem by posting the changes to our Website, in which case the changes will take effect 14 days after they are posted.
8. If any aspect of these terms and conditions conflicts with any right given to you by law, these terms and conditions will override or exclude those rights to the extent permitted by law. These terms and conditions are to be read subject to all applicable laws.
